General Characteristics of Moon based (Zodiac Sign) Pisces...

Nature And Habits

Pisces is the most complicated sign in the entire zodiac system. Its dual nature pulls the person in two different directions. As a consequence he never understands that he wishes to do or what he should do. Due to this mental confusion he mostly thinks that everything around him is wrong but he can never analyze what is wrong.

Pisceans are very emotional and they very easily influenced by others. As soon as they enter the room they come to know what is happening there. The difficulty is that they come under the influence of others very easily and hence it is very necessary they should come in contact with right people Otherwise they tend to imitate others and develop a thinking like others.

Pisceans are very sentimental and therefore their emotions and feelings play a very important role in reacting to people and situation. Due to their extra sensory knowledge they unreasonably fall in love or hold grudge for anybody. They are very illogical in doing so. They are over filled with sympathy. They cannot perform any work which may harm others. When they find somebody in difficulty or find someone in despair or afflicted by disease they feel like running to help them, but they don't understand how to help them. Due to this nature of Pisceans some people try to take undue advantage of them.

Their imagination power is well developed. In root they are idealistic and try to escape from the bitter realities of life and get engrossed in their dream – world. This is the reason why many great poets, writers and musician were Pisceans. But what is the use of those imagination which cannot be utilized in worldly affairs.

This is the reason why Pisceans stay behind others and fail to bring themselves in limelight. They lose hope due to little opposition. Their entire personality is negative. Their nature is not stable and changes every moment and depends on their mood. They themselves never take any vital decision and depend on others for decision making.

Pisceans like spending peaceful time at home instead of enjoying sports activities and other worldly enjoyment. Due to this they tend to get lazy. They are attracted towards water. Due to their coward nature they repeatedly risk for forgiveness or constantly give excuses.

Basically Pisceans are dual nature. The question is which path they adopt. The most determined and the most weak character are found in Pisceans. Some people fall prey to their emotions and adopt a path of pleasure, get influenced by the atmosphere or fall in the company of false friends. Some people come under the influence of liquor or intoxication get habituated to it. But if they find a purpose or mission in life, then they mould themselves according to the situation. Due to the sudden change in their nature, they may surprise their friends. In no moment they shed their weakness and sensual character and raise to any level of self confidence.

They are attracted to study of Occultism. The love to discover the unknown, philosophical and secret things but people think about them as superstitious where in reality they are very fortunate.

A female Piscean totally possess the feminine attribute outwardly due to which male are attracted towards them. They are ready to adopt a tough life inwardly. Due to love and sympathy for poor and those in despair their house tend to become an asylum for pet animals and children.

Financial Affairs And Activities

For a Piscean money is the least important factor. It is a means of them, not an end. But they are always scared of poverty. Hence they do not let their generosity control them unless and until they are forced by their dear ones. They sacrifice everything for them. They do not worry for accumulating money for bad days and therefore their old age is mostly spend in poverty.

In financial matters they frequently face ups and downs. But once they get control over their unstable nature, there is no position in life where they cannot reach. They can be successful in the work of a loader, foreign business, import export or marine business. Their interest may be in the job of nurse, restaurant – owner, social workers, teacher, accountant, money – lender etc. in business they can be successful in joint ventures or partnerships.

Friendship, Love & Marriage

Pisceans never feel shortage of friends. This is not only due to their nature but also due to the power of attracting others. They can go to any extent to help their
